School Bands Unite For Concert Friday

The annual "Band Time" Concert featuring bands from all local schools will be held in the High School auditorium Friday evening.

Students are to report at 7 p.m. at which time the high school dance band will provide a half hour program of pre-concert music. During this time, members of the various bands will assemble and get prepared for their part of the program. All band members will have seats in the auditorium so that they may hear most of the other groups.

The program will start at 7:30 with a Tonette group from Danahy School trained by Mrs. Sally Lowell. These Tonettes are used in many school systems as a pre-band training instrument with great success. It has been several years since they have been used in Agawam.

Three bands under the direction of Mr. Howard Crotty will make up the next part of the program. These are the 4th Grade, the 5th Grade and the 6th Grade Bands.

The final part of the program will present two bands under the direction of Darcy Davis: The Junior High and the Senior High Bands.

Each of the bands will only present a few numbers so that the program will not be too long. Altogether well over 300 student musicians will take part.

The High School Dance band under the direction of Mr. Raymond Suzor will provide a number in between the various elementary groups, so that each will have time to put instruments away and return to hear the next band on the program.

On the lawn WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

Have you noticed, as I have, that more and more homes are being beautified with lawn trees? Builders are finally coming to realize that existing trees have a sales value and shouldn't be bulldozed away. And most owners soon discover that nothing makes a lawn more liveable than shade trees.

So the question arises as to the best method of speeding up the shade. Are special foods required? Is it really necessary to punch those unsightly holes in the ground? Except in very special circumstances the answer is a plain No. If you want to speed the lawn, feed the tree—with a long lasting, protein building fertilizer such as Scotts Turf Builder. It's as simple as that. And it isn't uncommon to see such a lawn tree gain four or five feet in a year.

When a lawn tree isn't fed, this oversight soon becomes painfully apparent. The lawn around it dies back — and this is usually, and mistakenly, attributed to shading out the grass. With sufficient fertilizer and water, however, you can have a carpet of green grass right up to the trunk. Thousands do, you know. See your Agawam dealer—

First Graders Help Beautify America

The first grade class taught by Mrs. Eloise Clark at Peirce School were so impressed by Mrs. Johnson's plea to make America beautiful that they have planted a Japanese crab tree on the front lawn of Peirce School. The tree-planting ceremony took place last Wednesday. As part of their work in preparing this program, the class wrote a letter to Mrs. Johnson telling her of their plans. They are eagerly awaiting an answer.

Preceding the ceremony, the children presented a play called "The Green Thumb" in the school auditorium.

The cast was as follows:
Bee—Kevin Caney, Dragon Fly—Cynthia Ainsworth, Old Woman—Dawn Paro, Daffodil—Mary Ann Marquis, Robin—Edward Mason, Bluebird—Bruce Fontaine, Mocking Bird—Brian O'Connell, Sara—April Randall and Tim—Michael Mutti.

Children reciting poem "Trees":
Felix Losito, Nancy Sardella, James Robbins, Vicky Starzyk, Dennis Lang, Margaret McCormick, Mary Seriva and Robert Mallette.

Singing Chorus: John Antenowicz, Joseph Ardizoni, Wynn Beattie, Karen DiClementi, Robert Etkin, Edward LaValley, Michael Luciani, Michael Marvici, Sabrina Netherton, Lori O'Connor, Elizabeth Pusey and Rene Rushby.

A DAY TO REMEMBER

Memorial Day is squarely in the American tradition. More than that, it is a reflection of the American character.

We are a sentimental people. And that, most certainly, is nothing to be ashamed of. It is a source of kindness, of consideration for others, of the compassion that distinguishes us from the lower animals.

And Memorial Day represents a special and wholly admirable form of sentiment. When we place our flowers on graves, in sadness and in pride, there is an uplifting of the spirit. We are expressing love. And we are paying tribute to the virtues and dearness of those who passed on before us. And, even if we do not visit a cemetery, we remember, and in that way the dead take on a form of new life.

One cannot conceive of a year in which there would be no Memorial Day. For it is the privilege of the living to honor those who are gone.

ENLIST NOW IN AIR FORCE

During 1964, at an Air Force Base in New York, men and women wearing the Air Force uniform disbursed more than 17.5 million dollars for services rendered by civilian contractors, to operate the base, and to military and civilian men and women who earn their living working at the base.

The Air Force spends billions of dollars yearly. These expenditures must be planned, budgeted and, after being appropriated by Congress, disbursed by men and women who work in the U. S. Air Force accounting and finance career field.

Sergeant Wesley R. Vereen, the local U. S. Air Force representative, said that positions are now open for men and women who would like to enlist for possible duty with the accounting and finance career field. His office is located at 145 State St., Springfield, Mass., or call him at 781-2420 Ext. 351.

To Town of Agawam Residents

It has come to my attention that some of the residents are a little over zealous in watering their lawns to the extent that other residents were not getting any water over the past weekend.

This happened at a period while there was very little irrigating going on. The fact that some people were not getting water in the second week in the month of May, indicates that we are in for a very rough summer.

We have received a letter from the Municipal Water Works of the City of Springfield requesting that we take the necessary steps to carry out the following water restrictions:

1. That no hose, automatic sprinkler or other means be used for watering lawn and garden except on alternate days; the even numbered houses and other structures on even days and the odd number on odd days from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. Furthermore, the practice of allowing sprinklers to operate in such a manner that sidewalks are flooded, the water flowing into the roadways and gutters is prohibited.
2. The use of hose or other means for flushing sidewalks is prohibited.
3. No filling of recirculating type of pools after July 1, 1965.
4. Reduction of Air Conditioning use to 10° temperature differential.
5. The Park Department is requested to curtail the watering of park areas and the municipal golf courses and eliminate all drinking fountains that are continuous flowing.
6. The Street Department is requested to cease using water for street flushing operations.
7. The Public Buildings, Fire, Police and School Departments are requested to eliminate all drinking fountains that are continuous flowing and to repair all defective water fixtures in buildings under their control.
8. Request the School Department to carry on an educational campaign of water conservation for the city's student.
9. All water users are requested to conserve water by repairing leaking faucets and fixtures.

Again we request that ALL residents of Agawam cooperate in this effort in order that everyone can have water, particularly during the evening hours.

Cape Trout

Three days of fishing for trout in the ponds that dot the Cape Cod area has not convinced this writer that the Division of Fisheries and Game places only large fish there while the Western waters receive the small trout from the hatcheries. This theory is often expounded in print and verbally by individuals who claim to be in the know. We witnessed many trout creel, and landed a few ourselves this last weekend without becoming overly excited about the size of the fish.

Mooselook Produces

Stan Berchulski and Larry Fontaine teamed up in one boat, while Joe Yerka, Mooselook Wobler representative, and I made up the second team. Larry caught trout on a miniature Mooselock, Stanley on a Cockeyed Muddler (Henry Guidi of Agawam creation) while Joe and I caught them on the red Mooselock. We tried streamers, wet flies, and other hardware to no avail. The Mooselock was the lure that produced. Larry landed the largest trout, a rainbow that measured 16 inches. The rest that was caught measured 10 to 14 inches.

Chumming

The method of catching trout on the Cape is not very sporting. I say this without my tongue in cheek, and will probably be blasted for making the statement. However, I do not consider chumming for fish sporting. By chumming, I mean the fisherman finds a likely home where trout will congregate...he dumps fine diced pieces of fish, worms, and even corn to attract the fish and to start them feeding, then he proceeds to fill his creel. This is the way the residents fish for trout in the Cape Ponds. The use of corn has been condemned in other states, for the fish will die after eating too many of the corn kernels. How about this? A Division Manager (who is morally obligated to set a fine example of sportsmanship) was observed using corn while fishing Higgins Pond. In order to be fair about the issue, I must say that there is no law against this method of fishing for fresh water species.

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

Many times, no doubt, you have felt that about half of the nation's 30 million anglers fish your favorite lake or stream. The numbers of American fishermen are going to keep growing. Yet some fishermen will continue to be quite successful. Why? Because they have above average fishing savvy and probably know many fishing tricks. Here are some hints which could help you catch more fish.

First, develop fine casting accuracy. Cast to areas around logs, bushes, lily pads and other "tough spots" that other anglers pass up. Many times you'll find unfished water even in "heavily fished" lakes or streams. To prevent snags, keep a supply of weedless lures, such as the ABU-Reflex weedless, in your tackle box. You'll be surprised at the number of fish lurking in rough-to-reach areas.

Like to bottom fish from shore? Many times fish will drop bait when they feel a sinker. You can fish with an unweighted line. Make a loop near the end of your line and slide it through an old hexagonal nut. Place a lump of sugar through the loop, then pull the loop tight. Cast. The sugar will melt in the water, the nut will fall off, and presto, your bait is in deep water with no fish-scaring sinker on the line.

Had trouble catching that lunker trout under a log or rock in a stream? Upstream from your quarry, slosh a hank of grass and soil around. As the soil particles reach your fish, toss out a worm and get set for results.

Spend a couple of hours reading the 1965 Garcia Fishing Annual. It's loaded with the fishing secrets of experts. The Annual is available on newsstands or direct from Garcia, 329 Alfred Avenue, Teaneck, N. J. for 50 cents.

When you hook a fish, make a note of the depth, chances are you'll find more fish at that depth.

If fish are particularly squeamish, try an especially light line—say about four-pound-test Garcia Super-Platyl monofilament. Many times a tiny lure or spinner like the 1/8-ounce or 1/4-ounce Garcia Veltie will get fish which pass up larger offerings.

When fishing from a boat, avoid banging oars, tackle box or feet against it. Vibrations really do scare fish.

A final trick—stop, look and listen. Keep an eye on the fellow who consistently brings home the fish. Somebody's always coming up with a new fish-getting gimmick.

However, I feel that there should be, for no one these days who fishes, is so hard up that he must catch fish in order to feed his family. Chumming is used by commercial fishermen in salt water, and is readily accepted by every one. This is entirely done under different circumstances and for a different reason.

Over forty outdoor writers gathered for the weekend at the Holiday Inn Motel in Orleans. The majority of the scribes spent the daylight hours in search of stripers in Pleasant Bay. The bass were very hard to come by with lures. Sand worms were used with the boat left to drift aimlessly over the feed beds. This method produced handsomely. Quite a few of the writers had a ball landing stripers in the 10 pound class.

SQUARE DANCE

By Al and Elaine Timpier

Coming up this Friday evening is a dance well worth attending. With us as guest caller will be Chip Hendrickson. Please be with us at 8 sharp to enjoy a full evening of dancing with Chip.

After this month we will have one more dance with Dick Steele calling and then our annual steak roast. The steak roast will be a closed dance with Dick Mastriani calling and will be held on a Saturday evening.

This is probably the last article we will be writing as we turn over our typewriter to the newly elected publicity chairman, Doug and Beryl Shaylor. We wish them much success and know they will do a competent job. We have enjoyed writing for you readers during the past year and we are not leaving the Promenaders. You will be hearing from us at our regular dances in the capacity of Program Chairman.

Good luck to all our officers and thanks and best wishes to the retiring ones. Hope they continue to keep dancing.

Local Realtors Observe National Realtors Week

Local Realtors are joining with more than 79,000 others in the nation to call public attention to their profession during National Realtor Week, May 23-29. George R. Yerrall, III, president of the Greater Springfield Board of Realtors, said that "the term Realtor is an indicator of particular qualifications because only a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and his local board can identify himself by that term. To be eligible for membership, a real estate man or woman must demonstrate a superior knowledge of the business and subscribe to a strict code of ethics."

LEGION AUXILIARY UNIT NEWS

by Virginia Catchepaugh

Miss Jacqueline Bouley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bouley of River Road, has been chosen to attend Massachusetts Girls' State, by American Legion Auxiliary Unit #185 of Agawam.

Alternate chosen is Miss Donna Judd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick W. Judd, Colonial Avenue, Agawam. Choice is made by the Unit in co-operation with the Agawam High School Principal, Frederick Dacey.

Sessions of Girls' State will be held June 11 through 18th, at Bridgewater State Teachers College. The girls will leave GAR Hall in Springfield on the 11th at 10 a.m. by chartered bus.

Miss Bouley is Vice-President of the Personality Club, and member of the Drama Club and Student Council. She has been a cheer leader for two years, danced in the Operetta three years and had parts in Junior Inter-class plays. She works on the Library Staff and is Candidates editor of the 1966 year book "Sachem." A member of the Future Teachers of America, she is taking the College course in preparation for a teaching career.

Her alternate, Donna Judd is a member of the Student Council, Ski, French, Art Clubs, and Honor Society. She is Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Year Book. She enjoys softball and plays the guitar. Donna also plans to teach and is taking the College course. Both girls are members of St. John's the Evangelist Church.

Poppy Day

Members of the Post, Auxiliary, Sons of Legion and Juniors will assist Chairman Constance LaMountain in distributing poppies at Riverside Park on Saturday, the 29th.

PINEAPPLE

Fully ripe pineapples are slightly soft to the touch, golden yellow in color, and have a "piney" aroma. Size has little to do with quality but you should avoid fruit that appears too green because it may not ripen well. Over-maturity, on the other hand, is most frequently shown by slight decay at the base or on the sides in dark, soft, watery spots. Fresh pineapples bruise easily, so they should be handled as carefully as possible. Do not store in heat or sunlight.

Boston Four-year drivers licenses, carrying a color photograph of the driver, are on their way in Massachusetts.

Subject to a green light from the Massachusetts Legislature, the State Registry of Motor Vehicles plans to adopt the system next year.

Richard E. McLaughlin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, disclosed that if the Legislature adopts and Gov. John A. Volpe signs a proposed enabling act by June, the new licenses would be issued starting in June of 1966.

The bill requiring such photo-licenses has been passed by the Massachusetts House. It is a re-draft of a bill filed by Sen. Stanley J. Zard (D) of Springfield, chairman of the Legislative Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles.

Aid for Freshmen

Boston Northeastern University has designed an insurance plan for potential dropouts. Well aware that the general fallout rate in the college freshman year is close to 30 percent, NU's Lincoln College will offer special instruction in 10 subjects this summer. Those who will be freshmen at any college in the fall are eligible.

Subjects range from biology to Spanish, but highest registration so far is in the two key freshman areas of mathematics and English.

The courses, which begin July 12, are not a review of high-school work, stresses Prof. Frank E. Truesdale, director of curriculum development at the college. All are introductions to college work with a spotlight on "stumbling-block" areas such as the meaningful and tricky algebra formulas.

"The courses won't get the student through any faster, but they may get him through," says Professor Truesdale.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

Hotbed gardeners in Massachusetts get a jump on the outdoor season by raising such vegetables as Boston and bib lettuce under a temporary protective structure that is only about a foot off the ground and consists mostly of window. The early native spinach on the market was put into the ground last fall, remained dormant through the winter, and grows quickly to harvest size and quality with the first few weeks of warm weather.

the license would contain a polarized color strip which would change in intensity, if the license is genuine, when placed under a sheet of polarized material.

It was pointed out to the committee that the material can be produced very cheaply and would be placed in the hands of registry offices, bank personnel, shopping center employees, and others who regularly employ drivers licenses for identification purposes.

Registrar McLaughlin was particularly impressed by the fact that the driver would get his license immediately after he was photographed.

The demonstration session was concluded with the appearance of Mr. Sweeney, the Electro-photo Service representative. Mr. Sweeney demonstrated his firm's camera unit. He said that in addition to the permanently im- placed camera for office use his firm also produced a portable unit which could be taken from place to place.

The Agawam Lions Club Scholarship Committee met at the Agawam High School on Tuesday evening, May 18, to evaluate 51 candidates for the two $200 awards given by the Lions Club, one to a boy and one to a girl.

The scholarship committee consists of three gentlemen: a businessman, an educator and a Lions' Club member, all not residing in Agawam, Meyer Tempkin, manager Stop and Shop, West Springfield; Herb Pace, Guidance Director of Southwick High School; Nick Zucco, Agawam Lions Club President and George MacIntosh, West Springfield Lions Club official.

The winners will be announced graduation night.
